

Chris & Martin Kratt

Educational Nature Show Hosts

The Kratt Brothers (Chris and Martin) are educational nature show hosts. The brothers grew up in Warren Township, New Jersey, and together created children's television series Kratts' Creatures, Zoboomafoo, and Be the Creature (which aired on the National Geographic Channel and Knowledge Network), as well as Wild Kratts (which airs on PBS Kids and TVOKids). Chris holds a Bachelor of Arts in Biology from Carleton College. Martin holds a Bachelors of Science in Zoology from Duke University.

In 1990, Chris served as an intern at Conservation International in Washington, D.C. A year later, he started the Carleton Organization for Biodiversity. His ecology studies have been funded by the Explorers Club and the National Science Foundation. He was also the recipient of the Thomas J. Watson Fellowship. www.krattbrothers.com
